Dear Zonta Sisters,

Many of us at times will reflect on one aspect or another of our lives. During a recent Zonta Board meeting, the Zonta graphic, ANATOMY OF A ZONTIAN, was mentioned. It got me to thinking,

“Was I, and our membership as a whole, a good example of a Zontian?”

The graphic (see it on page 3) defines a Zontian as:

- 1. “A person who believes in the social, political and economic equality of the sexes.” Well, neither I nor any other woman would argue with that!
- 2. “Has a passion for women empowerment, gender equality and service for a change in both the local and international community.” You may have contributed to the local charities we serve with either donations or service and you probably also contributed to our international student at Cottey College. In addition, $98.00 of our annual membership cost goes to Zonta International and 1/3 of the funds we raise locally are usually contributed to the Zonta International Foundation to support Zonta International’s service and educational award programs. Some of you also personally contribute to one or more of these programs as well.
- 3. “Committed to lead and establish lasting bonds for a journey that is yet to come.” Let’s think about this. Many of our members have taken on roles as officers, board members and/or committee chairs. Certainly this fulfills the leadership commitment. But how about the part “... establish lasting bonds for a journey that is yet to come”. I can think of no better way to fulfill that part of our Zontian anatomy than to introduce new members that will enjoy the work that we do and carry on into the future! There’s still plenty of time! Invite someone who you think has the “anatomy of a Zontian” and if it’s someone you don’t know very well, tell them to bring a friend! We’ll have a visit from some real Suffragettes, play a “meet and greet” version of bingo, and have some great food and wine!

It’s going to be a fun evening! Let’s make it the best “Membership Meeting” ever!

Yours in Zonta, Karen Weinheimer, President

Girl Scouts visited the Fire Station!

Firemen explained how to call “911” and what information they would be asked to give on that call. The girls were excited to get to sit in a fire truck and sit inside an ambulance while firemen explained how patients could be treated. Our firemen also accommodated their requests to slide down the fire pole! A real treat for the girls! Thanks to Karen Weinheimer who organized this event and to all of the Fredericksburg Firemen and First Responders who gave the tour.
